ISSUE 111

The President's Corner

Dear Cousins,

The topic this quarter is books! Books authored by family members, and/or descendants, or books about family members! I don't know how many of you out there have Goggled this timely topic, but there are many books written by Mabee's/Mabies/Maybees/Mabeys etc. through the last 200 plus years. One of the earliest authors is Dr. Henry Clay Mabee (1847-1918) of Illinois. He wrote quite a few religious books and an autobiography. His cousin Catherine Louise Roe Mabee (1872-1963) also of Illinois also wrote a religious book about her life in the Congo where she was a missionary. The most impressive I think, have come from Hamilton Wright Mabee (1846-1916) of New Jersey. He wrote roughly 35 books including many targeting younger readers, was the editor of literary magazines, and was also a noted orator. He even has a Wikipedia page. I have found some children's books by (Ira) Peter Mabee (1883-1980) of Wisconsin, written and illustrated back in the 1930s. There also seems to be another Peter Mabee writing some fiction/emotion kindle books recently. I am not sure what those are exactly, but if someone knows, please tell us! Mary Louise Mabee (1904-1972) wrote 4 books and her papers are held at the university of Arizona. I bought "The Long Knives Walked" but have not read it yet! Barbara Mabee, retired professor of German from Oakland California has written several books. She appears to still be living. George W. Maybee of Alabama, a Maybee Society member, has written an interesting book I need to get, about his great grandfather Charles Maybee, titled "Three Wagons West: Adventures on the Oregon Trail".

Then, we have the children's book "Daughter of Liberty" written by Robert Mead Quackenbush (born in 1929 - also in Wikipedia, and still living) about his 5 times great aunt Wyntie Quackenbush Mabee (3rd wife of Abraham Mabee). Years ago I talked to Robert on the phone. It seems he has a web site and has written and illustrated over 200 children's books! He received the Gold Medal of Art & Literature from the Dutch Settlers Society. http://www.rquackenbush.com/meet_the_a uthor.htm

Next we have John Aaron Mabee (aka Jack - Sourdough Jack - 1920-1995 of Washington) who wrote 4 sourdough cook books. He visited here at our home in March 1995 and went home to Seattle and passed away! He was full of plans and ideas for the Maybee Society, and it broke my heart! He even gave us a number of packets of the dehydrated sourdough starter that he had perfected the process for. Another Mabey who is English, but quite well known for his books on botany and biographies is Richard T. Mabey born in 1941. He was elected a Fellow of the Royal Society of Literature in 2011. After graduating from Oxford he was an editor and before becoming an author, he worked in film and did documentaries for the BBC. Then we have Maybee Society member R. Robert Mutrie. He is a Canadian descendent that has written the actual only genealogy of the family, "6000 New York Ancestors: A Compendium of Mabie Research". He put it into book form, also probably the only one that will ever get written because of all the info on the internet today. Robert has written several historical/genealogical books and websites on the people and area where he lives and is still researching today.

We have descendent and prize winning author, Firth Haring Fabend, another Maybee Society member. She attended our 2010 reunion at the Farm and we enjoyed meeting her. She has become one of the premier writers on New Netherland today. "New Netherland in a Nutshell" is her latest. She also wrote a small book/poem called a "Catch of Grandmothers" that includes her great grandmother Catherine Mabie. Firth also has a Wikipedia page!
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Firth_Haring_Fabend

Last but not least, there is yours truly, who just finished/published a small book titled "Jan Pieterse Mabee, wife Anna Borsboom and their Farm, A Souvenir Guide". My friend/cousin Pat Barrot, and I worked on it because people that visited the farm kept asking for something to take home and remember it by! (when purchased at the farm, $1.50 of each goes to them) So for over 10 years, it was on my bucket list! And you know what that means, one project gives birth to 4 more! So now, I am working on a children's book about Jan and hope to get artist Len Tantillo to illustrate it!!! (I cannot draw my own name) I have already spoken with him, and he seems receptive! It was at his instigation that Pat and I do this book through Amazon's publishing arm, Create Space, and I have to say that it worked pretty easily after you get used to their instructions and specifications! You can buy it too!

So cousins, if you have been holding back, please don't! Go for that brass ring yourself! Be the next author on our list!!!!
All the Best,

Kim Mabee

Research Update

By Steve Mabie
Vice-President

Whoever would believe that eBay could be a good source for genealogical finds? And how would you like to find out that we are related to a real hero, a Medal of Honor recipient who later rose to the rank of Brigadier General in the US Army?

Last week I was searching through eBay looking for some new Mabie artifact to add to my collection when I stumbled across an unusual item for sale: a Sons of the Revolution certificate naming Oscar Fitzalan Long as a descendant of Revolutionary War soldier Cornelius Mabie of New York. The seller of the document went on to identify Oscar as a Medal of Honor recipient during the Indian Wars. I immediately checked our data base and discovered that Oscar F. Long was not included (he is now).

Oscar F. Long (1852 – 1928) was born in Utica, NY, the son of William W. Long and Eva E. Veeder Long; the grandson of Samuel Veeder and Jane Mabie Veeder; the great grandson of Jacob Mabie and Eva Van Patten Mabie; and the great great grandson of Cornelius Mabie and Hester Groot Mabie.

Oscar F. Long was awarded the Medal of Honor for valor in action on September 30, 1877 near Bear Paw Mountain, Montana. He was an 1876 graduate of West Point and served in the Army until 1904. He was one of 9 men so honored for valor at the Battle of Bear Paw, part of the campaign against Chief Joseph of the Nez Perce in the fall of 1877.

Update from Last Issue

In the last issue, I wrote about our grandson Jacob's success during the recent Little League Baseball competition.

Unfortunately, Jacob's team ran into an even better team from Lufkin Texas. As it turned out, the team from Lufkin went all the way to Williamsport and actually won the US championship before losing in the final game to the international team from Japan. Interestingly, the star for the Lufkin team was a young man named Hunter Ditsworth, who happens to be a very distant cousin of ours.

As you know, the wife of Pieter Casparszen was Aechtje Jans. This was her second marriage, her first husband, Abraham Willemszen having been killed in a duel in November 1649. Aechtje's son by this first marriage was William Tietsoort, and over the years, this surname has evolved into three main variations: Teachout, Titsworth and Ditsworth. Thus, Hunter Ditsworth is a descendant of Aechtje Jans, just like the rest of us.

In closing, I'll note that our grandson Jacob hit a single in his only at bat against Hunter Ditsworth.

Letters were read from Carolyn Mabie Eye (descended from James Dana Family) and Kathy Ramsey Cooper (descended from the Mary Catherine Clark Family) both expressing regret at not being able to make it to the reunion.

Mention was made that cards were sent out from the reunion during the year, such as get well and sympathy cards to various Mabie family descendants.

Next year we are trying something new. There will be baskets of various items donated that we will raffle off at next year's reunion. It was decided to let people sign up and fill one. It was mentioned that two families could go together to fill one. 6 members signed up to do next year's baskets. Those who signed up are Mike Kineke, Janine Dykeman & Bob Mabie doing one together, Bryan Bach, Donna Hatch, Barb Kineke and Mary Lou Bach.
