APOLOGIES:

MABIE OR MABEE?

We published an article about the Mabee Farm in the newsletter, listing it as the “Mabie Farm”. My sincere apologies to George Franchere, Member # 117. . Mr. Franchere donated the property on January 29, 1993 to the Schenectady Historical Society. He is a descendant of Jan Mabee and the property had been in his family since the transference in 1705/6.

DUES ERROR:

I don't know yet what happened with the last newsletter mailing. Some of the newsletter envelopes did not reflect the correct date for dues paid. I suspect that I used an old database. I am sincerely sorry for the mix-up, especially when it even included faithful Society members who always pay their dues on time and some who always include a donation. The old databases have been deleted and I went through the records back to 1999, hoping to eliminate any more such errors.

MAYBEE SOCIETY OPEN HOUSE:

Orvan Mabie (Member # 68), his wife Catherine Mabie and Byron Perry, Member #83 came to an open house for the Maybee Society on July 12th. We had an enjoyable time looking through the many family binders and books that belong to the Society. . Orvan showed us his well-organized database of the Mabile family. Byron bought us pizza for lunch.

I am deeply appreciative for my daughter, Allyn Hamblin, who came over from Port Orchard to spend the day helping me file in preparation for the open house.

We decided that having an open house is not practicable, because as Orvan said, “The amount of information is just too overwhelming.” It would take weeks to look through all the binders and books that the Society has.

The Society has a lot of information. The genealogical data, of course, is on the database on the website. We also have many histories and pictures that should be shared. I will make it a priority to look through all the binders and member files to find anything that should be included in the newsletters.

Our binders are in these groups:

Group 1 - Pietersen and Aechtje Van Naarden and Descendants:

Group 2 – Caspar Mabie and Descendants

Group 3 – English Mabeys

Group 4 – Van Naarden

Group 5 – Misc. Maybees

Group 6 –Loyalists – Capt. Abraham

His maternal grandparents, Julius and Harriet Millecam were a great influence on him. Bill said, “I’ve often told my children that I wish that I could have been as good a dad, as my grandpa was to me.”

He attended public schools in Butte, received his B.S. from Weber State College and an M.S in Special Education from Northern State College.

UPDATE ON BAY OF QUINTE:

Rodney Green, #146, provided this updated information on the Bay of Quinte in Ontario. He is a librarian for the Marilyn Adams Genealogical Research Centre. He says, “the web site <<www.quinte.on.ca>> does contain a number of research locations. A few of the links either don't connect or the information is out of date. One has information from 1994.

“In this geographical area, there are over 50 locations for genealogical research alone. Many do not have web sites and the hours of operation vary greatly. Some are open in summer only, some on weekdays and some on weekends. Some have a treasure of one of a kind material. Small centres, run by volunteers with very limited funds, have difficulty getting the exposure they deserve. Advertis$ing coSt$ !”

“Tourist information centres and web sites like the one mentioned are oriented toward commercial enterprises such as Bed and Breakfast, arts and crafts, wineries, etc. They, like their counterparts in most locales, offer little to historians or genealogists. There are pleasant exceptions, but very few. One local tourist information office, in a city of 35,000, does not know where the public library or the historical society's prominent building is located, or, if in fact there is one. That was confirmed by a personal visit. I could see the library unobstructed from where I was standing!

“Volunteers often volunteer for more than one society. This overlapping gives a wide-ranging knowledge to each of the societies. The best references and directions to a genealogical research centre is from one to the other through their own network. I suggest joining an organization in the area of concern and depend on their knowledge of the area.

“The Marilyn Adams Genealogical Research Centre (MAGRC) is the only stand-alone genealogical research centre in Canada, and, is centrally located between Port Hope and Kingston. It is quickly becoming the largest in eastern Ontario.

“The MAGRC has a growing collection of records for the counties of Northumberland, Hastings, Prince Edward and Lennox & Addington. Because of the amount and variety of donations, there is also a large collection of material relating to other areas. A database is being compiled for the 1,000 plus genealogies, which are on the shelf. Many of these have Loyalist connections. This database guides the researcher quickly to a book and page for the name queried. For the above-mentioned counties, a cemetery database contains the stone inscriptions for the cemeteries, which have been recorded. Another valuable resource is the Hastings County land records. The abstract books are available as are the instruments for the period 1867-1955. The instruments prior to 1867 are located in the Archives of Ontario. “The MAGRC has volunteers who are knowledgeable in the genealogy, history and geography of the area. Some of the volunteers are also members of the United Empire Loyalists, the LDS centre, and, other historical & genealogical societies. Most have Loyalist roots.

“Researchers can be quickly guided to the appropriate locations to either further their research or to occupy their extra days of research. The MAGRC is open on Monday and Tuesday, except holiday Mondays, and it is open on Wednesday in July and August.

The web site for the MAGRC is <<www.quinte-kin.com>>.

“The MAGRC has a large collection of newsletters from genealogical and historical societies. I plan to add my complete collection of Maybee newsletters to the collection. Newsletters are not on the researchers "to read" list and it is a shame. There is a lot of information that can be gleaned from them.”

MABEES AND MABEYS IN THE NEWS:

Have you ever noticed how many Mabees (any spelling) have the same talents or interests? The family seems to flourish in areas that include writing, talking, gardening and cooking. Richard Mabey combined two - gardening and writing. Jym Mabey, #104, sent the following articles.

This article about Metje Mabee, Member #113, is from the February/March 1997 issue of Canadian Gardening Magazine.

HORTICULTURALLY HONORED

“Each year the Ontario Horticultural Association (OHA) the parent body for affiliated societies in the province seeks nominations for various awards for outstanding service to horticulture. One of its awards, the Trillium, has been given annually to a female society member since the early '50s; the equivalent award for men is the Silver Fir. Metje Mabee of Gananoque won last year's Trillium.

"Nominations from local horticultural societies must be submitted by February 28, and presentations are made at the association's annual convention, usually held in June. Nominees for the Trillium and Silver Fir awards are judged on leadership in promoting their local society, public plantings they organized in their areas, or for longtime involvement in horticulture."

GARDENING AUTHOR:

Jym sent information about a book by author, Richard Mabey, called "Plants With A Purpose" (A guide to the everyday uses of wild plants.) The biographical notes say, "Richard Mabey, author and editor of educational books, broadcasts frequently on T.V. and radio and shares time between Hertfordshire and a cottage in Suffolk. He is the author of "Food For Free", "The Unofficial Countryside", "The Roadside Wildlife Book", "Street Flowers" and the "Pollution Handbook" and has edited an annotated edition of Gilbert White's "The Natural History of the Garden". Mr. Mabey is a patron of the Kenneth Allsop Memorial Trust."

NOTES AND QUERIES:

Tommy Shaughnessy #260, wrote, "Cousin Steve has found the link with Peter Mabie and Abigail Payson. I would like to know if anyone related to them would please email or write me. I sure would like to see any of them if close to me or try to set up a reunion. Thanks, Tommy."

  - did not marry, no children

Notes:

- 1) Simon was definitely not baptized on 11/11/1724. No baptism record for Simon has survived.
- 2) The will of Caleb Beck, dated 5/8/1728 and proved 10/3/1733 mentions only wife Anna, son Caleb and daughter Angeltje. No daughter Margaret is mentioned in the will, nor is there a baptism record for a daughter Margaret.
- 3) This is not the Abraham Moll who married Sarah Quick. That Abraham is from a different family entirely.
- 4) Jacob Perot bap. 12/29/1693 was mentioned in Jan's will, but not Martha's. He is definitely not the Jacob who married Marie Cousson. Marie and her husband were having children baptized as early as 6/12/1700 when Jacob was a child.
